Streets are being opened and six masts with electric lights will be erected immediately. The division of the lots takes place in six months, at which time the purchasers meet together and choose a committee of three disinterested citizens and a recording secretary, the names of the purchasers being placed promiscuously in a box. As each name is withdrawn by one of the committee the purchaser, or his or her representative, immediately makes a choice of one lot on the large map exhibited, and that choice, being recorded by the secretary of the meeting, is unchangeable, and will receive a deed for the same direct from Mr. Childs. This is on the plan of the best homestead associations of other cities.

WASHINGTON.

The Navy Department Survey of the Nicaraguan Canal.

THE CROW INDIAN RESERVATION LEASE.

A Criticism of the Interior Department—Senator Riddleberger Continues His Opposition to McCulloch's Confirmation.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, Dec. 17.

The Chair laid before the Senate a communication from the Secretary of the Navy in response to the recent resolution of Mr. Vest, which inquired whether any surveying party had been, or was about to be, sent to Nicaragua to survey the route of the proposed canal, and if it had been sent under authority of law. The Secretary's reply was as follows:

NAVY DEPARTMENT.—SIR: Responding to the resolution of the Senate, I have the honor to state that orders have been issued to Civil Engineer A. G. Menocal, Civil Engineer R. E. Peary and Ensign Washington I. Chambers to visit Nicaragua in order to make a survey of the route for the proposed Nicaragua canal. The orders have been issued in the exercise of the general power of this department under the President to issue such orders to all officers of the navy as may be deemed for the public interest. The arrangements which have been made were in contemplation of a revision of the survey made on a former occasion by Civil Engineer Menocal, and an investigation of any changes in the route which have been suggested as possible and available for shortening the canal and diminishing the cost. The cost of the arrangements made and contemplated, in addition to the pay and mileage of the naval officers, is expected to be $10,000 as outfit and about $1,000 per month during the stay of the party in Nicaragua.

WM. E. CHANDLER, Secretary of the Navy.

On Mr. Vest's motion, the letter was laid on the table. He said he would call it up at an early opportunity with a view to discussing the proposition advanced by the Secretary of the Navy that a right vested in any department of the government to order such an expedition without action by Congress.

Mr. Dawes presented a petition, which was referred, praying that steps be taken to prohibit carrying into effect the lease for grazing purposes of the Crow Indian reservation made with the Indians by a syndicate of capitalists and cattle men. Mr. Dawes said it was rumored that a lease of 3,000,000 acres had been made for nine cents an acre. He had been surprised to find that information of such a lease existed in the Interior Department. In order to quiet the apprehensions of the people of Montana, he would state that such lease could exist without the sanction or approval of the Secretary of the Interior, and it did not seem to him possible that the Secretary could sanction such a lease. It was not possible that the Interior Department would consider its duty performed if it kept itself ignorant of the existence of such a lease. Whatever might be wrong in the administration could, Mr. Dawes thought, not be excused by saying that the lease did not actually have the approval or positive sanction of the Department. He did not mean to reflect on the Interior Department, but to emphasize the fact that the responsibility rested with that Department.

Mr. Vest said he had offered a resolution, which the Senate had agreed to, calling on the Interior Department for information as to such lease, but no reply had been made. It was extraordinary, he thought, that a transaction involving 3,000,000 acres of Indian lands should be published in the press without attracting the notice of the Interior Department.

A large number of remonstrances against the ratification of the Spanish treaty were presented and referred.

Mr. Brown from the Committee on Railroads reported favorably the bill to extend the time of building the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad through the Indian lands.

Mr. Dawes offered a resolution which was agreed to, calling on the Secretary of the Interior for all information in his department relating to leases of the Crow Indian lands for grazing purposes and his action thereon.

Among the bills introduced and referred was one by Mr. Van Wyck, to fix the rates for the transmission of messages by telegraph West of the Missouri river, not to exceed the average rates East of said river to the seaboard; also to fix passenger and freight rates on railroads running West of the Missouri river, not to exceed the average rates East of said river to the seaboard.

Mr. Morgan, from the Conference Committee on the Atlantic and Pacific railroad land forfeiture bill, submitted a report stating that the committee had been unable to agree. Ordered printed.

The Senate went into executive session. The nomination of McCulloch to be Secretary of the Treasury was taken up and Riddleberger continued his speech in opposition to his confirmation. He began by reading the last annual report of McCulloch as Secretary of the Treasury, and incidentally mentioned that he should upon its conclusion read two previous annual reports. After an hour's debate the consideration of the nomination went over until to-morrow.

The naval bill was taken up and after debate passed substantially as it came from the committee.

The Western Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 17.—The annual meeting of the Western Associated Press was held here to-day, with a larger attendance than has been had for many years. In the absence of the President, Hon. John C. New presided. Reports were made by the Board of Directors and the General Manager, which were unanimously approved. The following officers were elected: President, Joseph Medill, of the Chicago Tribune; Vice-President, J. F. Mahon, of the Sandusky Register; Secretary, H. E. Baker, of Detroit. Directors—Richard Smith, of the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette; Walter B. Holderman, of the Chicago News; D. M. Honsen, of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat; John C. New, of the Indianapolis Journal; A. H. Belo, of the Galveston News; W. D. Bockman, of the Dayton Journal. A large amount of business was transacted. Among other things the St. Paul Globe was admitted to membership, and the following resolution adopted by a unanimous vote:

Resolved, That the thanks of the association are due and hereby tendered to the Board of Directors, to the Joint Executive Committee and General Manager for their thorough and efficient management of the business of the Associated Press during the past year.

Sale of an Absconder's Property.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 17.—The palatial Fourth street residence of George C. Buchanan, who is now sojourning in Canada charged with duplicating whisky warehouse receipts, was thrown open to the public to-day and a sale of the household effects begun by the auctioneer of the Trust Company. The house is the most magnificent in the city and is furnished to a degree approaching splendor. The walls are designed to imitate metal, leather, majolica and porcelain tiles, and the house contains all the luxurious and artistic appointments money could buy. Buchanan's family still occupy the house. They locked themselves in a room, and during the sale the sobs of his wife were frequently heard. The articles offered brought good prices.

South American War Rumors.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 17.—Captain Forbes, of the bark Albemarle, arrived at this port yesterday from Rio de Janeiro. He says when he left Rio de Janeiro, November 12, there were numerous war rumors between Brazil and the Argentine Republic. The Brazilian authorities were conscripting for the army. An American gentleman, who arrived at Rio de Janeiro from Buenos Ayres, told Forbes that the Argentine Republic had 120,000 men ready to throw across the frontier as soon as war was declared. The Brazilian navy was being gotten into readiness for active service.

An Old Relic for the Exposition.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 17.—The Committee of the Council, considering the question of sending the old Liberty Bell to New Orleans, voted 13 to 3 that a report be made to the Council with a favorable recommendation authorizing the Commissioner of Markets and City Property to take down the bell, and directing the Joint Committee appointed to attend the fair to take charge of the bell and hand it over to the authorities at New Orleans.

CAPITAL GLEANINGS.

Tobacco Men Tackling the Spanish Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Oscar Hammerstein, of New York, editor of the United States Tobacco Journal, had an interview yesterday with Minister Foster and Senator Miller, of California, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, in regard to the pending Spanish treaty. Hammerstein set forth the very strong objections to the tobacco clauses of the treaty as now worded, but suggested that these objections might be removed if it were provided that the duty on tobacco-fillers, etc., grown in Cuba, shall be wholly abolished, and the present duty on cigars reduced one-half. In reply he was assured by Senator Miller and Minister Foster that if the tobacco and cigar trade will agree upon this or any other proposition to harmonize the conflicting interests, there is every reason to believe that a duly authorized expression of the wishes of the trade would have great weight when the treaty reaches the point of consideration for possible amendments by the Senate.

THE SWAIM COURT MARTIAL.

In the Swaim court-martial to-day the witness Seth A. Terry, who was examined yesterday, was recalled by the Judge-Advocate for further cross-examination. The principal part of the examination and the one which proved highly sensational was directed to impeaching the credibility of the witness. Under the close questioning of the Judge-Advocate the witness stated that he was formerly secretary of the Territorial Land and Building Association of this city and severed his connection with that association upon a confession by him of a shortage in his accounts; that he was indicted for embezzlement but never tried, the District Attorney having informed him that there was no case against him because the association was not incorporated under the laws of the District of Columbia, and that the amount of the embezzlement was $24,000. In answer to inquiries by General Grosvenor of counsel for the defense, the witness said he had not embezzled any money and that the charge was brought against him to blackmail him. He said one of the directors of the association told his attorney that they proposed to have blood or money, and he added he had no doubt H. B. James, the head of the Customs division of the Treasury Department is instrumental in pursuing him with his charge and bringing it into this court. Witness said his application for an appointment in the office of the Judge Advocate General was accompanied by letters from fifty to seventy-five prominent persons, among others from General Howard, Minister Langston and Mr. Le Due, commissioner of Agriculture. He said all these people knew the circumstances attending his indictment for embezzlement and that he had told them all about it. The hearing here adjourned.

MONTANA'S NEW GOVERNOR.

B. Platt Carpenter, of New York, who has been nominated by the President for the governorship of Montana, is a native of Pinckney, N. Y., 50 years of age and a lawyer. He ran for Lieutenant-Governor on the ticket with Judge Folger when the latter was beaten by Cleveland, and stumps in the Stalwart wing of the party. He was recommended for this place by the President's most intimate friends.

CLAIMS FOR LOST PROPERTY.

Senator Slater to-day introduced a bill to provide for the states of limitation, hereafore enacted, shall be deemed to prohibit the adjudication of claims for compensation for property lost in the military service of the United States when such loss is a matter of record in any official record of the War or Treasury Departments. It is provided, however, that this shall not be construed to extend to any claims other than those for the loss of which compensation has been authorized by existing laws.

TRICKY PENSION AGENTS.

The Secretary of the Interior, in response to the House resolution, informs the House of Representatives that 83,272 fee contracts, at $25 each, have been filed in the Pension Office under the Act of July 4th, 1884. Of this number it is estimated that not more than 45,000 relate to pension claims filed prior to July 4th, and for which a ten-dollar fee only can be legally charged. By this trick the claim agents hoped to secure a larger amount of money than they were entitled to.

EX-DENIS.

W. W. Ker, ex-government counsel in the Star Route cases said to a reporter to-night that it is not true that he stated in a letter to Randall that the juries were fixed. A man volunteered the information that such was the case and he (Ker) merely wrote Randall what he had heard.

MORE CHARGES.

It is understood that General Hazen, Chief Signal Officer, contemplates preferring charges against Lieutenant Colonel and Assistant Adjutant General Chauncey McKeever, because of certain expressions said to have been used by the latter reflecting on him (Hazen) in connection with the Greely relief expedition.

SENATOR FAIR'S VIEWS.

The Nevada Statesman's Ideas on Sundry Topics.

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—Senator Fair, of Nevada, is here on his way to Washington. On being asked what he thought the Senate will do with the Nicaragua Canal Treaty, Mr. Fair said: "I think the Senate will ratify it and the Government will go to work and construct the canal. I am certainly opposed to Captain Fym's plan for joint action on the part of the United States and England, each to guarantee an equal amount toward raising the necessary sum. We can substantiate whatever is requisite, without appealing to John Bull. I dare say if England went into the enterprise, she would with her customary greediness demand more than a fair share of the profits. We should be in hot water all the time and the project would be good for trouble in the end." Senator Fair in answer to an inquiry, declared that the tariff question should not be regarded as cause for a lack of business confidence. He considered the protection Democrats in the House and a Republican Senate a sufficient safeguard against any immediate and sudden change. Replying to another interrogatory, Mr. Fair said: "I don't think Cleveland will make any sweeping changes or any appointments to which the Senate will consider itself called up

"The Last Sigh of the Moor."

Unconsciously the Herald exhibits grief that could not be restrained over the enforced change in the municipal government of Los Angeles yesterday. It was thought that the lapse of time since the Waterloo defeat which the Democracy suffered in this city and county would have soothed the wounded spirit of the genial and accomplished editor of the Herald and that he would be able by a supreme effort to conceal his wounds and hide his falling tears. But the effort was too much for even that brave heart, and his grief was very touching to behold. To see the beautiful city and the comfortable places under its government transferred from the party that has controlled them so long to the party composed largely of "newcomers" brought vividly to his mighty mind visions of the past, when he and his friends securely held the fort and feared no lurking foe outside. Then there were no intrusive ideas of progress or advocates of change to disturb the serene and placid current of events. Now what a change! An eager, hopeful city, full of men and women bound to make the most of the great possibilities of this glorious land, rejoicing in allthe good of the past and looking hopefully to the better things of the future. What wonder that the far-seeing and talented editor of the Herald should so deeply sorrow over departed power which can never be regained. There are many consoling scriptural sentiments that might be commended to the heart-broken editor, such as "Whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth," and the like, with which his extensive reading has made him entirely familiar.

Comparing a small event with a great one, in this reluctant surrender of the city government into Republican hands, the distinguished and learned editor of the Herald re-enacts the part of a celebrated historical character in a world-renowned event that occurred in Spain on the second day of January, 1492—the surrender of beautiful Granada by the last of the Moorish kings. Prescott graphically describes the striking scene. After giving an account of the presentation to Ferdinand of the keys of the Alhambra when Abdallah, the Moorish king, exclaims, "They are thine, O King, since Allah so wills it; use thy success with clemency and moderation," the learned historian describes the marching of the Moorish column and continues: "In the meanwhile the Moorish King traversing the route of the Apuljanas reached a rocky eminence which commanded a view of Granada. He checked his horse, and as his eye for the last time wandered over the scenes of his departed greatness, his heart swelled and he burst into tears."

* * * * * * *

The scene of this event is still pointed out to the traveler by the people of the district, and the rocky height from which the Moorish chief took his sad farewell of the princely abodes of his youth is commemorated by the poetical title of El Ultimo Scapiro del Moro, "The Last Sigh of the Moor."

Wise Giving.

Californians partake something in their natures of the wide, free and generous atmosphere in which they live. There is nothing in our habits of life in this broad and breezy West that tends to a thrift which borders on closeness. Nature gives large and ample returns to the hand of Labor. The soil of this State, rich in its virgin wealth, yields its hundred fold to the agriculturist. All Nature is prodigal here. The close economy and persistent toil that is necessary amid the rocky hills and in the less hospitable clime of New England, in order to secure even a comfortable competency, is not called for here. All the conditions of life are different, and we naturally grow into more lavish habits of expenditure. But the habit of giving does not perhaps cost us as much as it costs those who have struggled with less favorable conditions of soil and climate, and whose willing hands give none the less willingly than ours, though perhaps not so largely, from their harder earned stores. It is not the amount given, but the spirit with which it is given that makes the value of the gift. The habit of promiscuous and thoughtless giving is not a good one. We should not give carelessly to save ourselves from unpleasant importunities and annoyances, but we should dispense our charities wisely. There is wealth enough in this community to sustain all the institutions and objects that have a claim to our benevolence if our charities are properly distributed. When we give foolishly we wrong ourselves and the needy ones whom we might have helped. We should bear this in mind, and give as we have opportunity to such worthy objects as appeal to us for aid. Remember the orphans and the poor, and all those charities that tend to the good of community and the betterment of the race.

And while we give ourselves do not let us fail to interest our children in the benevolent operations of the day. Practical benevolence is a habit that is strengthened by indulgence.

It is not a bad plan, and it certainly is a very practical one that has been adopted at Grass Valley, this State, for carrying on benevolent operations on a small scale.

On the last school day before Christmas and New Year they have what is called "School Children's Donation Day." Each pupil brings a stick of wood and a potato to school. In the aggregate it amounts to quite a pile of wood and a good-sized sack of potatoes. The donations are for the benefit of the poor, and are distributed by the Ladies' Relief Society of the place.

If all the school children of Los Angeles adopted some such plan as this what a pile of wood and a supply of potatoes would be ready by Christmas for distribution among the poor of this city. There would be numberless hearths warmed and hearts lightened by such a simple charity.

Gen. Sherman and Jeff. Davis.

It was supposed that that miserable old man, Jeff. Davis, had learned a little something by his sad experience with "Sherman's Bummers" during the late war, but from his recent utterances it seems that he knows less than he did twenty years ago. If he keeps on fooling with Gen. Sherman he may get blown up, for "Old Tecumseh" is generally loaded and is liable to go off. If Jeff would only reflect a little, and recall the irresistable march of the grim old hero and his army right through the heart of the Confederacy, and how he crushed it like an eggshell in his powerful grasp, he would deem "discretion to be the better part of valor," and would henceforth and forever maintain a decent silence with reference to General Sherman. Jeff Davis can win no laurels in any contest with the late commander-in-chief and he had better retire to the safe oblivion to which a forbearing people have generously consigned him.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

SIERRA MADRE.

Correspondence of the TIMES.]

SIERRA MADRE, Dec. 15.—The "social season" opened at Sierra Madre last Friday evening with a party which was intended for a surprise, but which was not. However, it was a success socially, if not as a surprise. Mrs. Hunt was the first victim chosen. The house was well filled but not uncomfortably, and all kinds of games were played suitable for indoor amusement. Refreshments and music closed the evening, and unless your correspondent is greatly deceived there will be many more of these parties during the present winter. There has been a large acquisition of young people here the past year. The school house will soon be looming up on the corner of Baldwin and Central streets. The bonds have been sold, and as soon as the Trustees decide upon a plan it will be commenced. Real estate is lively as usual here. Hard times and a Democratic President-elect seem to have no depressing effect upon purchasers of real property here. Messrs. Norris and Deitch have purchased five acres each on the corner of Baldwin and Grandview avenues. Mrs. Beausfield ten acres directly north of these gentlemen, on the north side of the street.

Mr. George B. Davis, formerly of Concord, Mass., is about to commence the erection of a house on his property fronting on Baldwin avenue.

Our neighbor, W. A. Spalding, is now at his old profession; he is at present filling the editorial chair of the Press and Horticulturist, of Riverside. It is unnecessary to say that the chair is well filled, and the paper ably edited.

The most of our vineyards are now being pruned.

Mr. Hughes, formerly manager for J. T. Sheward, of your city, who at one time was so low that his friends despaired of his recovery, is now rapidly improving in health.

Ray Trussel, son of A. D. Trussel, is back with us again, after an absence East for something more than a year.

We haven't given up hoping the S. G. V. Railroad will come to life again and be built through this place; but we can exist and will if it does not.

W. B. Crisp had a fine team taken from a shed at Pasadena Sunday evening, while he was attending prayer meeting, and driven to East Los Angeles, where he found it Monday. This is not the first time the same thing has happened and Mr. C. has offered a reward for the detection of the rascal or thieves, which is the proper name for them. It is about time this sort of joke should be stopped.

COMPTON.

Correspondence of the TIMES.]

COMPTON, Dec. 15.—We are having cold nights and pleasant days.

Our public schools close on the 19th inst., and reopen about the 1st of March.

A general mass-meeting will be held at the M. E. Church in Compton on Friday evening 19th inst. to discuss the "Beard Bill" and the best means to circulate a petition to the Legislature to enact the bill.

The WEEKLY MIRROR is the leading paper here; about 120 copies are taken.

Mr. D. Lockwood says he will realize $1000 from his orchard of less than 500 apple trees this year. The apple pays here.

Dr. Stockton has purchased the tenacre tract east of the M. E. camp ground for $2000, and resides thereon.

A Mr. Field, lately of New Zealand, is building a nice residence on the tract he purchased of R. Sherer. Many houses, barns, etc., are being built. Our little town goes marching on. It cast 276 votes at the last election.

The little ones are happy over the prospects of a Christmas tree in the M. E. Church.

The I. O. O. F.'s of this place now own the hall formerly owned by the association. The Masons, Odd Fellows and Good Templars meet in the hall. Hereafter no public meetings are to be held in it.

Our town is in great need of a public hall.

Dr. G. A. Millard is located among us again. He, like many others, does not leave us long at a time. Good!

O. W. CHILDS' TRACT.

Opinions of the Press Upon the Enterprise.

A NEW ENTERPRISE.

Opening of the O. W. Childs Tract.

From the Los Angeles Daily Times, Nov. 23.]

An important improvement and enterprise will be commenced in a few days on South Main street. The O. W. Childs tract, consisting six blocks lying between Main and San Pedro streets, is to be subdivided and placed on the market in lots. These lots, valued at the uniform rate of $600, are to be sold on a plan by which the buyer of a lot pays $50 down and $10 monthly installments for twenty-two months, at the end of which time, or before, he pays up in full and receives a deed from Mr. Childs. The position of his lot is determined by chance, the master being arranged by a committee selected by the shareholders, each shareholder having an equal opportunity at the expiration of six months, at which time the meeting for division takes place. The tract is to have new streets opened through it as speedily as possible, and every block will be lighted by an electric mast. The land is covered with fine deciduous and semi-tropical trees, and the property is considered among the most valuable outside the business portion of the town. There are many fine residences in the tract. Water and sewer pipes can easily be laid, and the proprietor will spare no expense to make the enterprise a success. It is almost certain that lots will double in value wi hin a year. The subscription books are to be opened this week. J. K. Duncan & Co., of the Diamond House, will act as agents.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

The O. W. Childs Tract to be Divided and Placed on the Market.

From the Los Angeles Evening Express, Nov. 22.]

The O. W. Childs tract, which comprises six complete blocks and portions of twelve others, commencing at Main street, opposite the residence of O. W. Childs, and running back to Hand street, is for sale, and now covered with orange trees and vines from fifteen to twenty years of age, is about to be divided into 300 building lots and disposed of in a manner that is sure to greatly improve that favorite portion of our city and enhance its value. The plan upon which these valuable lots will be sold is this: Subscriptions will be received at the uniform price of $600 per lot. At a certain time, to be fixed in the future, after these lots have been disposed of, a meeting of the subscribers will take place, their names will be written on slips of paper, and drawn from a box by some disinterested witness, and each number that will come his lot on the map as it is drawn. It is beyond question that some of these lots, more particularly those on corners, as well as those fronting on Main street, are worth two or three times $600, and it is thought that all of them are worth at least that amount. No payments are made except that anyone with a situation will be able to meet them, the first being $50 and the balance at the rate of $10 per month. Six electric masts are to be erected on the tract at once. The disposal of so many splendid building locations in this manner will doubtless stimulate building in that section to a marked degree. A more detailed announcement of the plan will appear in the advertising columns of the Express next week. Messrs. J. M. Duncan & Co. will be the agents for Mr. Childs in obtaining the subscriptions.

New Homestead Enterprise.

From the Los Angeles Daily Herald, Nov. 23.]

One of the most feasible and at the same time one of the most practical and attractive homestead schemes that has ever been inaugurated in Southern California, is about matured, and will be fully explained in a few days in the advertising columns of the Herald. It consists in the subdivision of the celebrated Childs tract, lying between South Main and San Pedro streets, into 300 lots. This beautiful tract of well-matured citrus trees and vines has been laid out into 300 lots, with streets and alleys, and each lot will be sold to the mark at at the nominal price of $600 per lot, payable in easy installments. Each of the lots to-day are worth $3000 each, while none of them are worth less than the uniform price asked. At the end of six months the purchasers choose a committee to draw by lot for choice of lots, so there will be an equal chance for each purchaser to get the valuable lots already built upon. Six electric light masts will be erected on the tract at once, which will illuminate the entire neighborhood. Water is to be laid to beautiful orange groves, one of the most attractive residence localities in the city. The facilities for water, drainage, sewerage and water supply are of the highest order. The fact that the property is within the city limits, insures business men have already selected homesteads on lots adjoining this beautiful tract and built elegant homes that will make this one of the choicest locations in the city. J. M. Duncan & Co., of the Diamond House, are agents for this new homestead tract, and will be prepared to put them on the market in a few days. This homestead enterprise will revive the building boom in the residence portion of the city, and no doubt be a great success.

A Correction.

To the Editor of the Times—SIR: It is due the M. E. Church South that a correction be made in the recently published report of our proposed school enterprise at the Iron Sulphur Wells.

We have not the most remote prospect of twenty thousand dollars from abroad. Our church is to accept a deed to twenty lots at said place, and authorizes the erection of suitable buildings for school purposes as soon as five thousand dollars in approved subscriptions may have been secured from friends of the enterprise.

W. B. STRADLEY,

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 17, 1884.

The Street Paving Question.

To the Editor of the Times—SIR: There have been many suggestions and plans for paving the streets, and now I will ask to be permitted to offer a few more, which seems to have been omitted in the general query. If the stone pavement which is spoken of, as the "Penn" pavement, that has been used but in one city of the United States, and on one street only, Broadway, New York; and it is the only one which has been found to stand the test. It is the one with which the city of Paris is paved, and is entirely free from "horrible pavement," that has been found very durable, but so rough and noisy as to be regarded a nuisance and done away with in most or many of the large cities of the country. The Belgian pavement became very popular in the East at one time, where the lumber was cheap, but it was not sure but only to be quite expensive, but were full of holes and had to be relaid at great expense and trouble. The subscriber lived in a western city where the gravel, Macadam and Nicholson were successively tried, and one between the Macadam and gravel seemed to be the cheapest and best. The style was something like the following: The road bed was first graded ready for the rock or gravel; then, there was laid upon this road small rocks, say to average two and a half inches in cube, to the depth of four to six inches; then upon this was laid a layer of screened gravel to fill up the spaces in the stone and make the road pack down. This screened gravel soon became very compact, and as there was no loam in it, it did not become muddy nor cut up. After a few years, where depressions were made by travel, screened gravel was again put upon the road to keep it level. There is enough gravel in the "Arroyo Seco," and nearly ready screened by washings, to gravel the whole town. By making a wooden runway, with flat iron rail to it, this can and gravel could be brought to a dump in the city quite readily, from which it might be hauled wherever wanted. In front of the Boston Merchants' Exchange there is a tar or asphaltum pavement, which is very smooth and durable. Four-square or hexagon blocks are first put down on end, and a coating of tar and gravel poured over them; the tar keeps the blocks dry and preserves them from rotting.

One pavement, well poured in roadmaking, thinks the "Babylon" road the best. It consists of a layer of roadmetal six inches in thickness, placed in an solid body, thoroughly rolled, and covered with about 1½ inches of blending material—good gravel being the best. It is large, however, in an extensive practice, built these roads with a layer of road-metal of 4 to 5 inches less, and with just gravel enough to bind the surface even, one of which, after eight years of constant use, does not appear to have failed in the slightest particular. This system of construction is the simplest of all modes, and its durability and efficiency have stood the test of thirty years. A. J. B.

[San Francisco Post.]

Physicians are always knocking the patent nostrum somehow. Professor Koch has just discovered that a cough, so far from being the typical cough, is the very latest to rise in fashion, and that the crow and the robin are real early birds, detailed to herald the kitchen fire and take the morning. These are on cleek before the owls, who do not get any credit, however, as they work the night.

Stocks and Bonds.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Government easier. Railways irregular. Stocks, after firm opening and advance of ½@1¼, became weak and depressed. Lackawanna was the special card, breaking from 97 at close yesterday to 93½. One hundred and twenty-one thousand shares changed hands on the way down. The immediate cause of the break was the announcement that the White pool had liquidated some days ago at an average of $10½ @10½. The market closed weak at or near the lowest point of the day. Business of the day was active and large blocks of some of the leading shares were thrown on the market. The news current was bearish. It was reported that the Transcontinental Association could not agree and that the Morgan line had cut rates in the South. Pacific Mail was exceptionally strong, rising 1¾ to 1 8-4 on an official statement that the company's indebtedness to the Panama Railroad of $30,000 would be paid. Parties controlling indebtedness have signified their intention of accepting the offer of the steamship company. Compared with last night, closing prices are ½ to 2½ lower.

A Pleasant Evening.

A very enjoyable affair took place on Saturday evening at the residence of Mr. D. O. Millimore, in West Los Angeles—a surprise given by the host to a select number of music-loving friends. After a dainty supper, the Misses Heine, of the celebrated Heine quartette, rendered one of Mendelssohn's duets. This was followed by a trio for piano, violin and violoncello, by the sisters and Mr. Louis Heine; a string quartette, by Schubert, in which the three were assisted by Prof. Heine; duo "Brillante," piano and violin; an "Ave Maria," Quartette, for flute, violin, viola and violoncello, and a selection from "Dr. Piccolo."

Arrest of a Wife-Beater.

Frank Toal, living in the foothills to the north of the town, near the pest house, was arrested yesterday afternoon by officers Lenox and Fletcher and brought to jail on a warrant issued by Justice Morgan, charged with attempting to murder his wife. It appears that Toal had been on a spree—in fact was drunk when arrested, and taking umbrage at something his wife refused to do undertook to force her into compliance with his wishes through the use of a club. The woman had an ugly gash across her forehead, which was sewed up by the attending physician. Toal will be given a hearing before Justice Morgan this morning.

AN APPEAL.

If a little, tender, loving child should stray away from home, and find it's way to your door, all unprotected and alone, and should stretch out it's dimpled hands to you for succor and for help, is there one man in all this city who would not gladly run to meet it, lift it in his arms and cherish it in his heart of hearts? There are forty of these innocents in the Orphans' Home, and the ladies are sacrificing their time and strength in order to raise $1,000 to enlarge the building. Send your money to the Fair to-day, and surprise the managers by making the amount $1,500, and you will be happier for the next year to come.

Accident on the San Gabriel River.

A party of three young men, residents of this city, while coming into town from Downey day before yesterday, were nearly drowned in the San Gabriel river—a stream which, at this season of the year, is not considered dangerous. They were about to cross at the regular ford, when, noticing that another man was watering his horses in the middle of the stream, they turned to one side and attempted to cross a little higher up. Suddenly the wagon sank into a deep hole, throwing the occupants and all the baggage out. The men sank in several feet of mud and water and had considerable difficulty in getting out. The horses were more fortunate, not falling into the deepest part, and with a little help reached the shore. The baggage, including three valuable shotguns, sank in the mud.

Runaway on North Main Street.

A bad runaway occurred yesterday on North Main street, near the residence of O. W. Childs. Three women were driving to town with a load of produce—butter, eggs, poultry, etc.—when a trace became unhitched, and one of the women got out to fix it. She dropped the lines and the horses becoming frightened started to run. Both of the other women were immediately thrown out, and one had her wrist badly sprained. The horses ran a short distance when the wagon upset throwing them down. The woodwork was quickly kicked to pieces and the vehicle became a shapeless wreck. The cargo, as might have been expected, was sadly demoralized, and relics of dairy produce may be seen for several blocks in the neighborhood.

A Rapid Increase of Business.

As showing the rapid growth of business in this city the case of S. W. Luitwieler, the agent of the Studebaker wagons on Los Angeles street, may be mentioned. Mr. Luitwieler opened in a small way on Aliso avenue about six years ago. In 1881 he removed to Los Angeles street and the same year built a block 50x75 feet. In 1882 he greatly had his business increased that he made an addition of 50x77 feet to his block. He has the largest stock of wagons, buggies and carriages in the city, and from selling one carload of goods a year when he commenced business for the past two years he has sold over thirty carloads each year.

Queer Companions.

A gentleman at Lankershim's mill states that a few months ago the mother of a family of chickens died, leaving several orphans. One chicken survived and for lack of other companions formed the acquaintance of a black poodle dog about the house, and the two soon became great friends. They followed each other around the garden, shared their meals, and even played together. Once in a while they had a quarrel and sometimes the disputs even came to blows, in which case the chicken's sharp beak was fully a match for the dog's teeth and paws. The trouble was soon settled and this strange companionship lasted until the chicken became old enough to have a family herself.

Winter Raspberries.

Raspberries equal to those grown in July and August are now for sale in the Los Angeles markets. The grower receives thirty cents a pound and the berries retail for thirty-five cents a pound. In view of the fact that certain varieties of the raspberry thrive equally well in winter as in summer in Los Angeles, there certainly seems a chance for an enterprising man to make money out of a winter raspberry farm.

THE SILVER QUESTION.

Discussion at the Board of Trade Rooms Last Night.

REMARKS OF MR. JOSEPH D. LYNCH.

His Views Somewhat Biased by Partisan Prejudice—He Tells What Has Been Done, But Suggests No Remedy—The "Times" is Compelled to Suggest It for Him.

There was a special meeting of the Los Angeles Board of Trade held at the Board of Trade rooms last night, for the purpose of listening to the discussion of our silver interest by Mr. J. D. Lynch, editor of the Herald. The rooms were well filled by the leading bankers and merchants of the city, and the interest manifested was such as invariably prevails when a commercial people begin to realize that a conspiracy against a growing industry is materializing. The speeches were earnest and the discussion should reach the many who could not attend.

Previous to the special programme some unfinished business was taken up and disposed of. President Gibson named as a Committee on Irrigation, in pursuance to an order of the Board at the last meeting, the following named gentlemen: J. M. Griffith, L. J. Rose, Abbott Kinney, Benjamin Dreyfus and J. E. Hollenbeck.

The President announced that the object of the meeting was to listen to a discussion of the silver interest by Mr. Lynch and nominated the Hon. E. F. Spence, of the First National Bank, as Chairman. Mr. Spence was elected, took the chair and introduced the speaker of the evening.

Mr. Lynch began by referring to the importance of the silver interest to the people of the United States and especially to the mountain States and Territories, as well as to the entire world. He spoke of the resources of Southern California in precious metals and the facility with which those metals could be mined. He regarded Los Angeles as the center of what some day would be a new State with this city as its capital. Mining constituted a large portion of our wealth and must of necessity concern all. He regarded it important that the matter be thoroughly discussed that it might be understood by every one.

A CONSPIRACY AGAINST SILVER.

Silver has been the subject of attack for many years. Back as far as 1868, Mr. Lynch contended, conspiracies among Wall street kings and Government officers had been formed to crowd silver from the currency of this country to enable them to enrich themselves by tinkering with the single standard. Secretary McCulloch recommended the stoppage of silver coinage, and President Arthur in his message had approved the recommendation. The speaker then followed up with a brief history of the opposition to silver from 1868 to the present reserving the major part of his investive for John Sherman, "who permitted Wall street to control him." In refusing to permit the bonded indebtedness to be paid in silver and afterwards in declaring that even the interest on the bonds should be paid in gold. The speaker traced the "conspiracy" down to the present, showing that the administrations had constantly been inimical to the silver interest. By way of stoning for the imprecations upon the heads of President Arthur and John Sherman, both Republicans, to pacify the members of that party present the speaker complimented Senator Jones of Nevada for his able services in the interest of the white metal.

A SUICIDAL POLICY.

Of the silver produced in the world the United States yielded fully one-half, yet those intrusted with the reins of government are constantly endeavoring to cripple that industry and directly injure a large class of our citizens. The yearly production of silver in this country is fully fifty millions. The speaker quoted from numerous authorities, showing that the weight of opinion, both in this and foreign countries, is on the side of bi metalism, and closed with an appeal in behalf of the possibilities awaiting the mining industries of Southern California in behalf of bi-metalism.

Mr. Lynch spoke with great earnestness, and his remarks will do much to arouse the people concerning this important subject. By motion a vote of thanks of the Board of Trade was tendered him for his able address.

A general discussion followed. Mr. H. J. Barrows made some good points in favor of the continuance of silver coinage, and claimed that it was frequently the result of ignorance of the true position of silver that prompted opposition from our Eastern friends. The Chairman opposed an unlimited coinage, but did not favor the present tinkering with the coinage. Others spoke briefly.

Mr. Germain thought that not only silver needed looking after, but some protection to fruit culture should be afforded by Congress. By motion Mr. Germain was requested to formulate his ideas on this matter and present them at the next meeting.

On motion, a committee consisting of Messrs. Lynch, Spence, Barrows, Haas and Hellman was appointed to arrange for a State Convention to be held at Los Angeles in the near future in the interest of silver and to prepare a memorial to Congress.

The Present Silver Situation.

There is no question likely to come before Congress during the present session of greater interest to the Pacific States and Territories than this silver question under discussions. Should the gold bugs of the East succeed in their present fight, the growing industry that has done so much to make California, Nevada, Colorado and the Territories what they are will be dragged into the dust and rendered comparatively profitless. It becomes necessary that the people of this coast formulate their demands in words that state the case clearly, concisely, and in terms that embrace the whole subject.

The enemies of silver exist. They belong to no party in particular. They have arranged their weapons of offense; those of defense should be called into action. It does no good to seek for the motives of those who have grown up in their opposition. What is our remedy?

The free and unlimited coinage of silver at the present standard of weight and fineness, and the displacing of other forms of paper money with silver certificates as fast as it may be necessary to utilize the productions of our mines will cover the ground.

Let us see what this means. "Free and unlimited coinage!" The present standard of gold coinage in this country is 25.8 grains of "standard" gold to the dollar. Standard gold is nine-tenths fine; i. e., there are 23.3 grains of pure gold in a dollar. Any person with 23.2 grains of gold or any larger amount can have it coined into money by taking it to a mint and paying a small percentage for coinage. This is "free coinage." Let the demand be that the owner of silver bullion may do the same.

By the present law silver can only be coined to the amount of $4,000,000 per month and not less than $2,000,000 per month. The bullion must be purchased at the market price in gold; 412.5 grains of standard silver make a dollar. "Standard" silver is nine-tenths fine; i. e., there are 371.25 grains of pure silver in a dollar. The "market price" of silver for five years has been about $1.10 per ounce. At that rate the cost on account of the vast extent of consolidation there existed in my lungs, which was the cause of my shortness of breath and hard paroxysmal coughing. In February I became so very weak I could scarcely walk across the room, at the time of the flood I set water it was necessary that I should be moved, and the only way it could be done was for my friends to roll me up in a blanket and carry me to a carriage, as they would a child. At that time I cured very little whether I lived or died, and it was the opinion of my acquaintances and friends, one of whom was a physician, that I could not live one week, but after using Dr. Williams' remedies for four months and following his directions fully. I was cured, and am to-day as well and strong as ever I was in my life, and am capable of doing manual labor. I, therefore, feel it to be my duty to my fellow men to recommend Dr. Williams' treatment to all who afflicted with any disease of the breathing organs, for I know of nothing so applicable or prompt in their action as those medical inhalations used by Dr. Williams. Respectfully, E. M. LEWIS,

Our Eastern friends should not depend upon climatic influences alone, for herein lies the fatal mistake. Nearly every case requires positive medication, so as to become rid of the offending matter—the consolidated portions of the lungs and thereby give nature an opportunity to heal themselves.
